Senior Class History

We entered Junior High School with a class of sixteen members. The four new members were Mildred Pressler, Rex Thompson, Purvis Thompson, and Ruby Hunt. The other members were Charles Jennings, Donald Marsh, Lloyd Enyeart, Dave Kaylor, Robert Forrester, Thelma Waggoner, Joan Charles, Maxine Black, Ruth Tinkle, and Virginia Nestleroad. Ruth Tinkle, Darold Waggoner, and Purvis Thompson left during this year. During the eighth year Ruby Hunt moved away but Edna Small joined us to make a class of an even dozen.

We entered High School with twelve students. During the freshman year Rex Thompson left us to go to Swayzee; Thelma Waggoner moved to Andrews, and Donald Marsh quit school. Lloyd Enyeart, who finished the year here with us, moved to Jefferson at the end of the year.

During '38 and '39 Pauline Surface entertained us with a wainer roast. We enjoyed our other partys at the Marion Roller Skating Place. Pauline Surface was a new member of our class. Our faculty was Mr. McElhany, Mr. Davis, Miss. Warner, and Miss. Dickison.

We entered the sophomore year with seven members, three boys and four girls. During the first of the year we gathered together at the home of Robert Forrester for a wainer roast. The freshmen were our invited guests; and an initiation followed the roasting of wainers. The last party this year was at the home of Virginia Nestleroad. The freshmen were guests. Teachers were Mr. McElhany, Mr. Davis, Miss Warner, and Miss Dickison.

The Senior Class Prophecy

The class that started out in school in 1929 is a very far spread class now. Their ideals are a little more far fetched now than they were then.

I started out to find the school of Banquo, but before I got started whom did I see but David Kaylor. I questioned him about what he had been doing. He told me he was an electrician and had been in business for 8 yrs. I ask him whether he was married or not. He said he was married to Deloris Irather, but he had to wait a good while, before she was old enough to get married.

Upon inquiring around in Banquo I found out that Edna Small had become a stewardess, and is working in San Diego, California and is making good money.

I journeyed on down the road and as I was passing by I seen Charlie Jennings in the yard. I stopped to have a chat and to see what he was doing for a living. He said he was married to Elva Wilson and they had 3 children, 2 boys and 1 girl and that he was trying to succeed at farming. In our chat he told me that Bob Forrester was married to Elizabeth Working from LaFontaine whom he had been engaged to for 5 months. They hadn't been married long but they sure had a nice pair of twins. Bob is manager of a basketball team in Anderson and is making a fair living for Lizzie and twins.

After he had told me the news I started on. I met Virginia "Ginger" Westleroad in a brand new Ford, when had been engaged to Howard Harrell but she broke her engagement. Then I ask her what she had been doing all this time. She said she was a stenographer and was employed at Indianapolis. "Ginger" seemed to be very happy and is enjoying the old maid life very much.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

We want to introduce to you
The Senior Class of 1942.
Although there's only five in number
Then they're around we cannot slumber.

First comes Dave, their president,
He has his plans all made.
He wants to be an electrical engineer,
And we hope he'll be well paid.

Then comes Ginger, their happy girl,
For her future she has no plan,
But she will certainly be a success
In whatever she takes her stand.

Yes, there's B., their tallest one,
He has his life all planned.
By sometime in the coming year
He'll probably be a married man.

And too, there's Elna, their other girl,
She has her plans all stated;
An airplane stewardess she wants to be
And certainly she'll be highly rated.

Last but not least comes Charlie,
His life is not planned as yet,
But whatever he does, he'll be a success
We'll all be willing to bet.
